

PAO 84-0259

14 June 1984

MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: George V. Lauder
Director, Public Affairs Office

SUBJECT: Address of the American Astronautical Society, Third Annual
Military Space Symposium

1. Action Requested: None. This is background information for your keynote address to the American Astronautical Society (AAS), Third Annual Military Space Symposium, Thursday, 21 June, 8:45 a.m. - 9:30 a.m., State Department, Dean Acheson Auditorium; and attendance at Watergate Hotel luncheon at noon the same day.

- ° About the Conference: The AAS is the premier scientific and technical society devoted to U.S. space activities. The Society promotes and supports scientific research related to the development of astronautical sciences. For over 25 years the AAS concentrated on civil and commercial space matters. Three years ago it entered the military space arena by sponsoring an annual classified symposium on military space. According to Symposium Chairman Charles Heimach, the Society has earned "wide recognition for the excellence and timeliness of its meetings." Although the AAS is not an advocate for any of the various groups taking positions on civil, military, and commercial space activities, they do attempt to ensure a balanced flow of information to their membership of 800. This year's symposium deals with the entire space environment, as contrasted to previous symposia when Air Force interests dominated. Norman Augustine, President of Martin Marietta Denver Aerospace, will receive the AAS Military Astronautics Award at the banquet Thursday evening for his outstanding leadership in the application of astronautics to the development of space systems for national defense. Opposite is additional information on the Society and letterhead stationery listing its Directors.
- ° Audience: Approximately 600 middle- and upper-level managers and scientists from industry and government who are involved in U.S. Space and Defense programs (all U.S. citizens) and a number of Agency employees will attend. Dr. Ted Speaker--who is former president of the AAS, member of the Space Station Task Force, NASA Headquarters, and Deputy Director for Concepts--will be present.

SUBJECT: Address of the American Astronautical Society, Third Annual
Military Space Symposium

- ° Arrangements: You should arrive at 8:30 a.m. at the 23rd and C Street entrance where you will be met by USAF Colonel Charles F. Heimach, Symposium Chairman; [redacted] STAT
Gayle Lynwood May, Technical Chairman of the Symposium. You are asked to allot 25 minutes for remarks and 20 minutes for questions and answers. All participants are cleared for SECRET NOFORN. A standing podium with microphone will be on stage for your presentation. Gayle May will introduce you. Classified viewgraphs (SECRET) keyed to your presentation have already been sent to the State Department. A projectionist will show them at appropriate times during your speech. OSWR will provide a duplicate set to you for familiarization. [redacted] STAT
[redacted] OSWR/SSD, who prepared your presentation, will also attend the meeting and be available if assistance is needed. You will be the first speaker and will be followed by DIA Director Jim Williams. Your remarks have been coordinated with General Williams. Taping and note-taking will not be permitted. I understand you plan to return to Headquarters before going back for the luncheon scheduled at 12:00. Opposite is a complete agenda and background information on your official hosts.
- ° Luncheon: The noon luncheon will be held in the River View Room, Watergate Hotel. Colin Gray, President of the National Institute for Public Policy, and author of a recent published book on defense space policy, will speak on "Space and National Security." Approximately 300 will attend. Attached is list of people who will be seated with you at the headtable.
- ° Press: Media representatives will be present only during the luncheon, when the unclassified presentation by Mr. Gray is made.

[redacted]

for George V. Lauder

Attachment

DCI/PAO [redacted] mbm/7676

Distribution:

- Orig - Addressee
- 1 - ER w/att
- 1 - PAO Registry #84-0259 w/att
- 2 - PAO

NOTES ON OFFICIAL HOSTS

Colonel Charles E. Heimach, USAF, who is General Chairman of the Third Annual Military Space Symposium, is also Director of Command, Control, and Reconnaissance, and Assistant Chief of Staff for Studies and Analysis at Air Force Headquarters, The Pentagon. He is slated to become Director of Plans for the Air Force Space Command, Colorado Springs.

Colonel Gayle Lynwood May (USAF Retired), who is Technical Chairman of the Symposium, is also President of the G. Lynwood May & Associates Inc. consulting firm. A 30-year veteran of the Air Force, he specialized in the intelligence field.

STAT

HEADTABLE AT THE AMERICAN ASTRONAUTICAL SOCIETY
THIRD ANNUAL MILITARY SPACE SYMPOSIUM LUNCHEON

21 June 1984
12:00 - 1:30 p.m.
Watergate Hotel, River View Room

John N. McMahon
Gale Lynwood May
Jack Englund
Dan Ruskin
Dr. Colin Gray
Major General Neil Beer

Dr. Hank Cooper

Colonel Charles Heimach
Bill Shea
Senator John W. Warner (R., VA) or
Senator J. James Exon (D., NE)

Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
Technical Chairman, AAS Symposium
President and CEO of ANSWER
Vice President, Lockheed
National Institute for Public Policy
Deputy Chief of Staff for Plans at U.S.
Air Force Space Command
Assistant Director for Strategic Programs Arms Control Disarmament
Agency (ACDA)
General Chairman, Symposium Committee
Lockheed, Luncheon Chairman

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY

WASHINGTON, D. C. 20505

PUBLIC AFFAIRS

Phone: (703) 351-7676

12 June 1984

Mr. Charles Powleske
Business Council for International Understanding
Headquarters
420 Lexington Avenue
New York, NY 10170

Dear Mr. Powleske:

Thank you for inviting CIA Director William J. Casey and Deputy Director John McMahon to speak at a luncheon or dinner for the Business Council for International Understanding (BCIU).

As a member of my staff mentioned to you, Mr. Casey is unable to address your group. We hoped that Mr. McMahon would be available, but unfortunately he, too, must decline the honor. It seems their full schedules of official duties prevent their looking far enough ahead to enable them to accept your kind invitation at this time.

Sincerely,

Deputy Director

STAT

P-306

